Training Rules:

- Clean up after your dog, both inside the training building and outside in the grass. Deposit dog waste in the bucket outside. Failure to do so may result in forfeiture of training privileges without refund of your training fees.
- Objects of attraction such as food treats, toys, balls may be used in training. Pick up all dropped food, treats, and be considerate in your use of toys so that they do not unreasonably distract other dogs being trained.
- Excessively harsh or inhumane verbal or physical corrections are not allowed in the classes. They disrupt the positive training atmosphere for the other dogs in the class.
- Do not leave your dog in a "long stay" that is not being actively trained and monitored. If you need to leave your dog for any reason, please bring a crate to contain your dog, have someone hold your leash or put your dog back in your car for the time you need to be without your dog.

Keep your dog on a short leash as you enter and exit the building and when in the parking lot. Constantly be aware of your dog's interactions with other people and other dogs so that you can prevent problems before they occur. Break eye contact by turning your dog away from the problem.

Any children not directly involved in the training classes must be under control, away from the training rings and not disruptive to the classes while inside the training building.
